

CAROL S. DIBBLE

Dr. Stanton
Graduate Dermatologist
301 Steeves Bldg.
Phone 393

carriage from which she also gave music lessons, and following that did post graduate work in the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. After the latter institution she studied under the following well known instructors: Carl Baermann, piano; a student of Liszt; Eugene Grebenyuk, violin; located in Elmhurst, Ill.; and Joseph S. Brown, theory, and Joseph S. Brown, euphonium. Miss Turner is organizing an interesting course of work for the coming year. She plans to give a violin ensemble in the early fall and throughout the winter will present her pupils at monthly recitals, and her forty-two or three public recitals. Miss Turner is looking forward to a busy year, inasmuch as a large attendance at Williamsburg is anticipated. The fruits

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Davies of Detroit, Mich., have been the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Sherwood for a few days. Dr. Davies is a professor in the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware. Tuesday evening, Dr. and Mrs.
Sherwood entertained at dinner was attended the many Iowa visitors in the city Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. L. K. Page and Miss Mabelle Page entertained with a delightful Kensington, at the home of Mrs. Page. Honoring her home guest, Mrs. S. Noll, of Ida Grove, Iowa. The decorations consisted of an abundance of seasonable flowers, producing a most pleasing effect and one especially attractive.

Charles Moore, Mrs. F. W. Wilson, Mrs. Burnham Southwick, Mrs. W. H. Shinn, Miss Van Tassel, of Albany; Mrs. Fred Koben, Mrs. A. R. Southwick, Mrs. Henry Lynch, Miss May Lynch, Mrs. J. R. Chapman, Mrs. M. Sander, Mrs. L. U. Grace, Mrs. Statur, Mrs. M. Wilson, Mrs. Nan Wilson, Mrs. A. Webster, Mrs. B. Morgan, Mrs. John Simmons, Miss Mary Stewart, Miss Catherine Stewart, Mrs. James Dickinson, Mrs.

Children will leave Monday morning for a large wheat ranch about twenty miles east of the Dalles, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Roberts. Mrs. Roberts is well known in Salem. During Rev. Elvin's absence, no public services will be held in the First Congregational church, but Sunday school will be continued as usual. Tho Elvins will be gone two weeks, re-

"One of them explained that she was especially interested in the education of the blind and wanted to visit the blind schools of Oregon.

"I knew," Miss Caper said, "that she was some one with a big soul, a big person in the true sense, but imagine

st Toasties

—the Superior Corn Flakes.

r fruit—

